LEUKEMIA STILL CANCER'S PUBLIC
ENEMY NUMBER 1

Leukemia is still on top of the American Cancer Society's public enemy list, but there are signs it may not stay there.

"Dr. J. Levens listed some of these hopeful signs yesterday:

—New research developments give added support to the theory that human leukemia is caused by a virus. In recent months virus-like particles have been found in human leukemia cells which have been made to grow in laboratory test tubes. If the evidence is conclusive that leukemia is caused by a virus, the possibility opens up of finding a preventive or treatment.

—In its 1965 compendium of facts and figures, the American Cancer Society reports a slight but steady drop in the leukemia death rate since 1960, and predicts there will be no increase this year in the number of leukemia deaths.

—Continuing progress in the use of drugs and other therapy is prolonging the lives of leukemia patients from weeks to years.

"Despite these hopeful signs," Dr. Levens warned, "we must recognize leukemia for what it is—an incurable cancer of the blood-forming tissues which this year will take the lives of 6,800 men, 4,800 women, and over 2,400 children."

Pointing out that the mortality rate of leukemia has increased 50 per cent in 20 years, and that there will be some 17,000 new leukemia victims this year, Dr. Levens said, "we must follow up all research leads with all possible speed."

The American Cancer Society, Dr. Levens said, grants more money to research in leukemia than to any other site of cancer. In March, 1964, there were 76 ACS grants in effect directly or indirectly related to leukemia, in the amount of $2,281,810, bringing to nearly $12,500,000 the money ACS has given for research in this field in the past seven years.

The research must be continued and expanded, Dr. Levens added, to support investigators who are seeking to establish the virus causation of human leukemia, who are looking for a simple test to diagnose leukemia before it develops in the blood stream, and trying to develop a drug that will check the fatal course of the disease.

"All this requires money," said Dr. Levens, "and the most support given to these research scientists, the sooner we will arrive at a solution. The dollars contributed to the April Crusade against Cancer in Hancock County will hasten the day."

Lucien Kidd who has been in the beer business for the past 18 years
 representing the Regal Beer Co., has acquired the business for himself as Mississippi distributor. Lucien an ardent fisherman says he misses his fishing but business comes first. He hopes to get back to his favorite sport soon. Good luck in your new undertaking, Lucien.

Now that frog hunting is coming into its own, the season for hunting frogs in Louisiana will be closed during the months of April and May, according to an announcement made by the La. Wild Life and Fisheries Commission. There is no license needed to take frogs unless they are caught for commercial purposes. It is unlawful for any person to carry or have in his possession any shotgun, rifle or firearms while taking or hunting frogs.

Bill Witter was over from New Orleans last week but did not get to go fishing. He will be back soon when he gets some time off to go after them.

Wop Glover was over. We think getting some dope on fishing. Will have to wait a little bit Wop.
 Things are not just right yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Manieri former residents were over last week
 and visiting relatives and friends.
 They both love to fish and best of all eat them.

Haven't heard of any soft crabs
 and flounders being caught as yet.
 Probably the cold weather is keeping them out. Won't be long now, however.

Saw some folks fishing from the seawall Sunday despite the bad water. A few specks were caught near Clermont Harbor.

Ben Hille and Irene were having a ball at their camp on Jordan River the other day making cray-fish bique. Both are good cooks and we had the pleasure of sampling it. Mighty good, folks.

Enjoyed a couple of crayfish parties lately. The mud bugs are really plentiful over in Louisiana and when cooked right are hard to beat as a seafood delicacy. They are being caught on Highway 90 at Gentilly and on the Paris Road near the Industrial Canal as well as other places. It's a lot of fun catching them.

Things are shaping up for some

 its sales volume.

NOTES

If you are thinking of joining the many families who are installing either gas or electric pole-mounted yard lights, do some planning first.

Consider the place for the light carefully. Select a location that will assure convenience and safety,
 probably the two main reasons you are considering such a light.

You want the light to make it more convenient for you and your family to move around the yard and grounds without a flashlight or lantern. You want the light for the safety of your family and your guests at night and to discourage intruders.

You will want to place the light
 where it will give the best distribution of light over the area needing lighting. As you do your planning, you may find you need two or more lights to do a good job.

You will want the light placed to light steps, walks, entrances or paths, parking areas and any areas susceptible to attack by intruders.

Avoid placing the lights in places that the light or brightness of the bulb may be blinding.

HOME HINTS

To quickly create a St. Patrick's Day Cake, form a shamrock, using three well drained green mint pear halves, face down on top of a frosted layer cake. Cut a small piece from the underneath side of a pear
 half to form the stem.

When the men of the house buy washable clothing, check each garment to make sure all parts are washable. This includes waistbands, pockets, linings, elastic and other finishes. Since you can't gauge washability by sight, buy a good brand that you can rely on to provide dependable washability down to the last detail.

The March Plentiful Foods List
 spotlights eggs, peanuts and peanut products. It also includes rice, canned pears, carrots, cabbage, celery, canned or frozen red tart cherries, fresh apples and canned pink salmon.

Olive-flavored dumplings are tasty when served with veal or beef stew. Add chopped ripe olives good soft ball this season. Teams are being formed and competition will be high. A meeting was held at Trapani Knock Knock one night

 last week of all sponsors. Good players are being secured. If you play softball make yourself known.
 There is still room for more players.

LOCAL SPORTSMAN

DOCTOR JOHN GRIFFIN
 Doc's most favorite pastime is playing golf—although—he loves other sports too. As a real sports fan
 it's hard to beat. As for his fishing, he doesn't know how much he knows about it but can't let he has gotten his share. He has plenty of friends and can play a good game of golf and hold his end up against the best of them. Don't treat them too rough Doc.

It was a very happy occasion in the home of Mrs. Julian Necaise of Lakeshore over the weekend
 when her five sons were together with their families. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. George Necaise Jr. and family of Avondale, La., Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Necaise and family of Luling, La., Mr.
 and Mrs. Sherman Necaise and family of Ansley, Marion and Phillip Necaise, who are living at home with their mother. Also visiting Mrs. Necaise on Sunday were her sister Mrs. Lucy Eames and family of Biloxi, Mr. and Mrs. E.
 Lusch and family of New Orleans, Mrs. Jessie Lusch and Mr.
 and Mrs. Bert Courge of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Sonex, who were married March 26 were honored with a dinner in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr.
 and Mrs. Melvin McCordie of Lake-shore.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Billie Osbourn, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lombard and family of Metairie, Cathy Larsen and Tommy McCordie of
 New Orleans, Mrs. Eunice Boudin and Mrs. Stella Somdel both of Waveland, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Ladner and Beverly Ladner of Lake shore and Maria Peterson of Cler-mont Harbor.

Mrs. Sonex is the former Rhonda Osbourn of Bay St. Louis.

Overheated cooking oils, fats,
 butter and greases will burn or decompose into acrolein, carbon monoxide and dense smoke. Even a few sausages or strips of bacon
 will produce enough toxic smoke
 left in an overheated frying pan
 to overcome a person caught without warning. Be extremely careful in your home with any substance that will either burn, melt or decompose into toxic products.

OXFORD PILGRIMAGE—One of the homes on the three-day Oxford Pilgrimage, April 30-May 2, will be Cedar Hill Farm, begun in 1850 and completed in 1852 by Col. Yancy Wiley with slave labor. All timbers were grown and hand-cut on the place, and an avenue of cedars brought by log wagon from Memphis and planted in 1852 leads to the doorway.
 Stark Young is said to have written much of "So Red The Rose" while visiting here. The gigantic Deep South Plantation Barbecue, scheduled for 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, May 1, will be held here on grounds where Sherman's troops camped in November of 1862. The barbecue setting will be complete with Confederate cavalry troops, spiritual singers, Confederate bands-men, and mountains of "Southern-style" barbecue.

(Published by the Hancock County Association For Retarded Children)

The ratio of mental retardation
 to the total population persists despite the advances in medical science.

On the other hand, such diseases
 as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever have been almost eliminated.

Tuberculosis has been reduced 30 percent in five years. Polio has been drastically reduced.

Recent studies show a diminishing death rate and an increased life span for the mentally retarded
 both in and out of institutions.
 This adds materially to the number of mentally retarded, particularly in the upper age brackets.

Comparing mental retardation to other conditions some interesting statistics are presented:

Beyond the Blossoms

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When the buds burst into fragile flower, and their breath is everywhere, and a warming breeze caresses the cold, damp earth . . . this is more than Spring. This is the time of Promise.

For these same festive branches shall lift a precious burden of fruit when the red-gold mantle of harvest falls across the land.

When human souls awaken to the reveille of faith, and hymns and prayers fill the arches of heaven, and the warmth of an ageless hope reaches from heart to heart . . . this is more than Lent.

For the faith which blossoms today will bear its own precious fruit. Love! Joy! Peace! The harvest of souls like yours and mine is beginning anew to grow.

VOTING RIGHTS BILL RADICAL

(By Senator John Stennis)

WASHINGTON — The Voting Rights bill which the Administration has asked Congress to pass is the most extreme and radical bill ever presented to the Congress. I shall certainly oppose this bill with all my strength.

Congress was first asked to pass the bill at what was officially a Joint Session to hear a message from the President, but what was in fact a pep rally to build support and sentiment for its passage. The members of the Supreme Court were there, lustily applauding the explanation of a bill yet unwritten and which they might well have to determine to be valid or invalid. This was a sorry spectacle indeed. The proposed bill is clearly and plainly contrary to the Constitution of the United States. It would transfer to the Federal Government authority to determine in seven States the qualifications of voters in all Federal, state, county and municipal elections in those States, a power clearly reserved to each State by the Constitution.

The proposed new legislation would prevent the States of Ala-ssissippi, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida from passing laws to pass a bill which would prevent a voter from voting at the polls. It would allow the State of New York to continue the test it now has in effect, requiring that New York voters must be able to read and write the English language. Many Negroes are therefore denied voting rights, but would be permitted to continue to use each test.

The Federal Government has absolutely no authority under the Constitution to determine voter qualifications, yet this bill assumes that power. It gives the Attorney General almost unlimited discretion, and he has in fact said that principal qualifications will be only age, citizenship and residence. He and he alone would have complete discretion in determining what qualifications will be required in the 7 states just mentioned.

This bill would also prevent Mississippi and the other six states singled out for federal domination from changing their voter registration laws in any way without first obtaining permission from a Federal District Court in Washington. The bill in effect says that no Court in Mississippi or anywhere else in the United States except Washington is competent to determine voting controversies which may arise under the bill.

I was greatly surprised to learn that 66 out of 100 members of the Senate have already signed as co-sponsors of a bill so obviously unconstitutional from start to finish. When the time comes that the Senate of the United States can be told by the Executive Branch of Government that we must pass a bill, that we must not amend it, and that we must do it within a certain period of time, there will no longer be a division of our Government into three separate and distinct branches. If this bill is enacted, our Constitution will be left in shambles.

I shall oppose the passage of

OXFORD PILGRIMAGE TO OFFER DIVERSION FOR MALE VISITORS

OXFORD, Miss. — An "especially for males" feature of the second annual Oxford Pilgrimage, April 30 to May 2, will be two universally popular sidelines — fishing and golf.

For those husbands who tire of delving into the splendor of the past, guests cards will be issued to pilgrimage visitors for use of the Oxford Country Club facilities, including the golf course.

Also, boats and fishing guides will be made available for those who wish to visit nearby Sardis, Enid and Grenada Reservoirs. The 1965 Oxford Pilgrimage tour will include nine of the city's most interesting homes and two historical churches. Special events will be the Deep South Plantation Barbecue and the Confederate Tea.

May 1965 is designated "Star-Spangled Security Month" — a patriotic period in which to increase investment in U. S. Savings Bonds by all Americans.

Test At MTO Late This Year

WELFARE DEPT. READY TO COOPERATE WITH SUPERVISORS

Miss Evelyn Gandy, Commissioner of Public Welfare, has issued a statement assuring the Boards of Supervisors in all 82 counties that the Welfare Department is ready to cooperate with them in the distribution of surplus food to needy families.

"Last month the Welfare Department cooperated with the Boards of Supervisors in 62 of our counties in distributing surplus food commodities to $18,707 welfare clients and other needy persons. The total value of the food distributed in February was $2,310,000.00," Miss Gandy stated.

"The value of the food given to one person each month is approximately $3.00. This extra food can mean a great deal to an aged, blind or disabled citizen whose only monthly income may be a $50.00 welfare check.

"We appreciate very much the assistance we are receiving from the Supervisors in these 62 counties, and we are ready to expand this program to the other 20 counties if the Supervisors wish to cooperate with us in so doing," Miss Gandy continued. "It has been the policy of the Welfare Department to leave this decision with the local Boards."

This surplus food is made available to the Welfare Department through the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Foods distributed include flour, grits, cheese, peanut butter, margarine, chopped beef, lamb, meal, dry milk, rice and rolled wheat.

There is no cost for the food but the Supervisors are required to furnish storage facilities and pay a portion of the local distribution costs.

County Welfare Agents are responsible for the administration of the program in their respective counties. The certification of persons eligible to receive commodities is handled by the workers in the county welfare offices.

PHARMACISTS TO HOLD SEMINAR

Pharmacists of District Nine of the Mississippi State Pharmaceutical Association will be offered a seminar at their District Meeting April 3. The group will be made up of pharmacists from the Gulf Coast and surrounding area. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. at Annies Restaurant, Henderson Point, near the Bay St. Louis Bridge. The District Seminar Program is provided for the pharmacists of Mississippi by the Bureau of Pharmaceutical Services of the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy.

The topic for the seminar is "Are Generic Equivalents Actually Equivalent" and will be presented by Dr. Julian Fincher, Assistant Professor at the School of Pharmacy. In describing the seminar Dr. Fincher stated that he planned to discuss the generic system of drug nomenclature. He will call particular attention to the fact that two similar pharmaceutical preparations may contain the same amount of the drug, but because of several factors, the pharmacological response to each of the drugs may vary.

Mr. Jerry Covich, pharmacist of Biloxi and chairman of the District, worked with Dr. Eugene Watkins of the Bureau of Pharmaceutical Services to plan the seminar. Approximately 30-35 pharmacists are expected to attend the seminar.

The first static testing of moon rocket boosters will be held at the end of this year or in January 1968, Mack Herring, public affairs officer at Mississippi Test Operations center, told the Biloxi Rotary Club.

Herring said that there has been a change in the schedule which will result in beginning the tests earlier than previously planned.

Herring reported on construction progress on the Hancock County facility and on the development of the space program generally.

With $260 million of construction underway at MTO, he said, this is the second largest construction project in the United States today. The largest is going on at Merritt Island where the spaceport is being built to launch the manned moon flight.

Closely allied with MTO, Herring stated, is the Michoud plant at New Orleans, which has 11,700 employees and is the largest industry in that city.

Terry Malone showed recent slides of the construction projects at MTO.

The Saturn boosters to be tested at MTO develop 7 1/2 million pounds of thrust and will be 364 feet tall. They will be tested on three stands. One stand will be ready this year, Herring said, and the other two are scheduled to be ready in the spring of 1968.

Following the slides, Malone showed a film of the spaceport at the John F. Kennedy Space Center, which will be completed in 1968 also.

Mayor Daniel Guice invited members to attend the beautification committee meeting at 3 p.m. Wednesday at city hall and Bill Rabourn invited them to the conservation service for Seashore Manor at 3 p.m. Sunday.

E. A. Hiller was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Secretary Ed Tary introduced the new officers and directors who will take office July 1.

April is the best time to get the summer vegetables planted!

A partial planting list includes some of the early season crops like beets, radish and carrots. Add to this bush and pole snap beans and lima beans, corn, okra, cucumbers, squash, peas and pepper and tomato plants.

Here are some other suggestions: Use a starter solution around cabbage, pepper, tomato and eggplant plants when setting. Thin all plants in rows to give them room to grow. Watch for early insects. Keep your garden tools clean and ready for use.

When spraying, begin applications when 1/4 of the petals have fallen from the blooms. Continue until the fruit is ripening. Wet three thoroughly until spray begins to drip off. Spray from all sides of the tree.

Here is one all-purpose spray you can mix yourself. Mix three table-spoonsfuls of 50 percent Sevin wettable powder and one and a half table-spoonsfuls of Captain Wettable powder in a gallon of water. Mix thoroughly.

When using, shake sprayer every few minutes to keep material in suspension. Check label as to limitations on use of these materials.

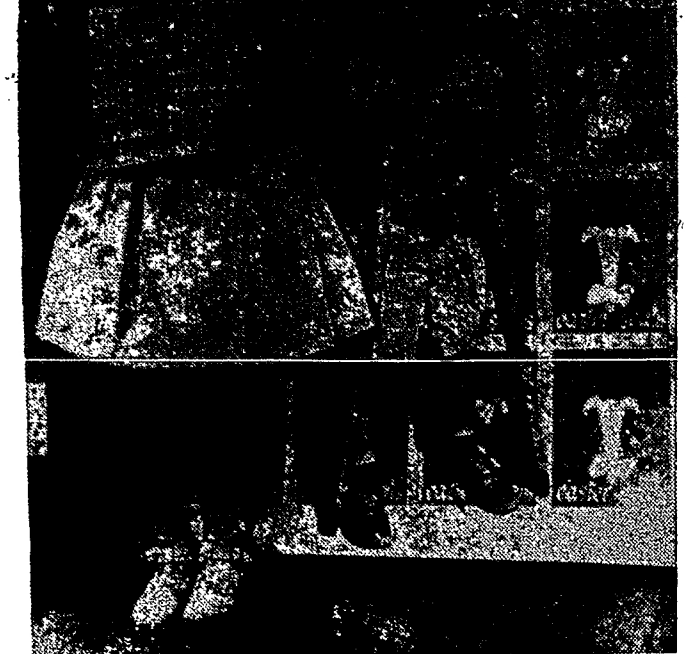

Early spraying will also destroy germination of lots of bitterweed seed.

If clovers that 2-4-D will kill are growing in the pasture, hold off spraying until the clovers begin to

WITH OUR MEN IN SERVICE

DA NANG, SOUTH VIETNAM (FHTNC) — Marine Lance Corporal Columbus J. Augustus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus J. Augustus, Sr., of 228 Jeff Davis Ave., Wave-land, Miss., assisted in the landing of the Ninth Marine Expeditionary Brigade at Da Nang, Republic of Viet Nam while serving with Battalion Landing Team 2/9, aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Princeton.

During the five days of landing operations, the Princeton steamed more than 3,000 miles while conducting around-the-clock operations to land equipment and supplies for the Brigade.

The Princeton is now enroute to the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong for liberty after concluding operations in the South China Sea.

FUTURE CHEMICAL ENGINEERS — The chemical industry is one of the plants of today's complex society, and chemistry touches almost each facet of everyday life. Through chemistry improvements have come in farming, foods, industry, medicine and many other things. The Department of Chemical Engineering is the University of Mississippi School of Engineering is making special arrangements to take their place in the important task of chemical engineering. Mark Carley (left) of Hattiesburg and Cherry Jackson of McComb work with a double effect evaporator in the chemical engineering laboratory at Ole Miss.

URGENT STRICT LAW ENFORCEMENT AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING

Immediate attention by the public and strict enforcement by the courts must be given to the problem of drunk driving, according to J. Harry Lambdin, President of the Mississippi Safety Council.

Lambdin said drunk driving was a causative factor in an almost unbelievable number of fatal accidents, and apathy by the public and sympathy for the drunk driver hinders the enforcement of this law.

"This hindrance is reflected in many court decisions where an original charge of driving while drunk has been reduced to something less so the convicted violator can retain his driving privileges and perhaps kill again," he said.

The Council President said there are instances on record where a person has been convicted of reckless driving as many as eleven times and is still driving a taxi cab.

"The citations issued by the arresting officer charged the violator with driving while under the influence, but these were reduced to reckless driving so, as the judge said, to allow the man to continue his work."

"Such actions by any court is nothing short of ridiculous," Lambdin said, "and corrective action is long overdue."

According to the Safety Council President most traffic judges do a reasonably good job; a few are outstanding and are not swayed by the public.

"And, a few are interested only in the fees they can collect and think nothing of reducing a serious charge in order to accommodate the offender," he said.

The Safety Council reviewed many cases involving drunk driving and found this offense to be second only to speed insofar as fatal accidents are concerned. And, according to the Department of Public Safety's record division, it is very likely that drunkenness was the reason for the excessive speeds in many cases.

If this could be proved, then drunkenness would be our number one traffic killer, Lambdin said.

The Safety official said several things were needed in order to correct the drunk driving problem.

1. A law to allow a chemical analysis to determine the alcoholic content in a person's system. Such evidence to be used for or against the accused.
2. An immediate and intensive effort by the legal profession to provide training to inform and upgrade existing traffic courts.
3. An abolishment of the fee system in all courts. (This would be of value in all traffic cases.)
4. An awakening by the public to the realization that driving is a privilege instead of a right and when the privilege is abused it must be withdrawn.
5. Stronger and more effective penalties for the convicted drunk driver.
6. Intensive training for all traffic enforcement officers.

The Council President said an effort would be made to strengthen all traffic laws by asking the 1968 legislature to adopt the modern Uniform Code in place of the obsolete one now in existence.

"However," he said, "no law is any better than the enforcement given it by our officers and the courts, and no law can be properly enforced unless public opinion agrees with the enforcement. I urge all Mississippians to demand compliance and enforcement of our laws, particularly those dealing with the deadly drunk driver."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

MORE MILK - FEWER COWS.

"Dairy farmers should be producing more milk from fewer cows by using forage that can be converted into high milk production," says Herman Saucier, Soil Conservation Service Agronomist.

"A combination of bahia grass and Fescue is fine for dry cows and replacement heifers but producing cows need forage that will give high milk yields."

Saucier recommends planting sudan, or one of the hybrids about May 15 and planting again on another field about 6 weeks later. About one acre is needed for 4 producing cows.

To carry producing cows through winter a mixture of oats and ryegrass is recommended, planting about one acre for each producing cow.

Highly fertilized bahia or coastal bermuda can be utilized in May and June for grazing and can also be used for hay.

To sum it all up a dairyman with fifty milkers would need about 24 acres of millet (12 acres early planting, 12 acres late planting), 50 acres of oats and ryegrass, 10 acres of coastal bermuda hay, and enough summer pasture for 2 months grazing.

"In this dynamic age, this age of space exploration and exploding population, we must not forget the fundamentals of conservation that must underlie wise land use and conservation. They include use of full facts about soils, water, plants, and people, and the interrelationship between them as a basis for land management. They relate to the need for proper combinations of uses and treatments encompassing the several sciences, of soils, agronomy, forestry, biology, hydrology, hydraulics, economics, and others that must be interwoven into what we have come to call soil and water conservation."

— D. A. Williams, Administrator, Soil Conservation Service.

CONVERSION OF INACTIVE NUCLEAR REACTOR POSSIBLE

The conversion of an inactive nuclear reactor at the Atomic Energy Commission's Savannah River Operations to the production of electric power could be technically accomplished, according to a report just released by a study group representing 11 investor-owned electric utilities, including Mississippi Power Company, Gulfport.

A. J. Watson, Jr., president of the Gulfport-based electric company, said that the highly complex report, which has been submitted to the AEC, indicates that the conversion would be technically feasible, but that estimated electrical power generation cost would exceed the cost of power from new facilities.

"Since the conversion costs would exceed those of constructing a new atompowered generating station," Mr. Watson continued, "the findings of the report make our future course of action more difficult. However, he said, Mississippi Power Company, along with the 10 other participating utilities, will carefully consider every aspect of the contractors' report before reaching a final decision."

Mr. Watson said that the Bechtel Corp. and Combustion Engineering, Inc., both actively engaged in the research, design and construction of nuclear-electric generating plants, served as contractors to collect and study data on the conversion.

The reactor, known as the "R" reactor, is one of five located at the AEC's Savannah River project. It was shut down July 1, 1964, because of reduced plutonium requirements of the AEC.

In addition to Mississippi Power Company, the Savannah River Nuclear Study Group consists of:
